

2009 APWU Health Plan Live Life Well!

APWU Health Plan has increased benefits for both the Consumer Driven Option and High Option for 2009, but has kept premium costs low. When you enroll in APWU Health Plan this Open Season, you'll save money and get a top-quality plan, too.

New for 2009: Both the Consumer Driven Option and High Option offer a new hearing benefit that includes diagnostic exams, and coverage for hearing aids. And a new prescription drug maximum co-insurance for network pharmacies is provided for both options.

Consumer Driven Option

For active postal employees who are members of APWU, the Collective Bargaining Agreement continues to limit what APWU-represented active postal employees will pay in premium costs: As it did for 2008, the Postal Service will pay 95 percent of the premium cost in 2009. The Consumer Driven Option is the best bargain in the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program (FEHBP).

- NEW hearing benefit
- NEW maximum for prescription drugs
- No upfront deductible or co-pays
